

FQHE materials have been proposed as the substrate for 'topological quantum computation'.

Classifying and understanding other 'small' fusion categories may help tease out the nature of other FQHE states.